DR. W. KOEHLER,
Surgical & Mechanical Dentist,
Deutscher Zahnarzt,

TAKES PLEASURE in announcing to the citizens of Portland and vicinity that he is now permanently located in this city, and fully prepared to perform all the Operations belonging to the Dental Department in the most competent and professional manner, in Surgical Treatment as well as in the construction of ARTIFICIAL TEETH, in the newest and most improved methods, on the following materials:

GOLD, PLATINA, SILVER, RUBBER, AMBER, or CORALITE BASE,

at the option of the Patient.

The Extraction of Teeth by his method is new to any other, as the patient need not undergo the unpleasant, not dangerous state of inhaling Chloroform, but will have his tooth extracted without that horrid pain which he generally treats to the last endurable moment of suffering.

All operations warranted to give satisfaction, or no charge will be made.

Special attention paid to the regulation of children's teeth.

Difficult Dental Operations particularly solicited.

Ladies waited on at their residences if desired.

References of Physicians and Families given at the Office.

Prices will be moderate in all cases.

H. H BLACK,
DENTIST,
(Late fr. of the Cincinnati College of Dentists,)
Office and Labratory, No. 10, Alder street,
Four Doors from Front, Portland, Ogn.

HAVING secured the services of Dr. C. H. MACK, formerly of New York city, and late of St. Louis, who is an experienced and skillful Dentist, I am now prepared to manufacture and insert Artificial Teeth by the following methods, namely: GOLD, SILVER, RUBBER, AMBER, PORCELAIN BASE, GUM ENAMEL, RUBBER ATTACHMENT, CHEOLITE, CONTINUOUS GUM, MICA and ENAMELED PLATE WORK. Some kinds of this work is recommended above all others, and needs but an inspection to prove its superiority for cleanliness, durability and life-like appearance to any artificial teeth in use.

Filling and cleaning teeth, and all operations in Dental Surgery, either mechanical, operative or surgical, performed in the most thorough and highly finished manner. None but the most permanent and finished operations performed, and no inducements to patients by low priced or roughly finished operations. I use no cement in filling teeth, and seek in price to make no competition with cheap Dentists: and desire the patronage of such persons only as wish their operations performed in the most perfect and skillful manner.

Operations that fail to give satisfaction need not be taken or paid for. Office hours from 9 A. M. to 4 P. M. Indigent persons who are unable to pay full professional charges will call before and after office hours. nov4:tf

THE FINANCIAL PROSPECTS.—The New York Tribune, of the 15th of December, contains some statements in relation to the National finances which will be found interesting. The following is about the probable indebtedness of the Union on the 1st of July next, and the means of payment:

If the Slaveholders' Rebellion shall be suppressed before the 1st of July next—as we believe it can and will be if the principles of the Proclamation of Freedom shall be thoroughly enforced and lived up to—the entire National Debt will be less than One Thousand Millions of Dollars, and its annual interest less than Fifty Millions, while we shall have a Tariff and Internal Tax law yielding together an aggregate of not less than Two Hundred Millions per annum. We can then proceed to take off the most onerous taxes to the extent of Fifty Millions per annum, and still have Seventy five Millions for the support of Government, Fifty Millions for the payment of Interest as aforesaid, and Twenty-five Millions for the annual reduction of the principal of the Debt; an income which would suffice to pay off the entire Debt within the ensuing thirty years.

Enormous, then, as are the burdens imposed upon the Nation by the most formidable, most wanton and guilty Rebellion that the world has ever known, they do not transcend the ability of our People. Let us only be rid of the accursed fountain of all this misery and waste—let us establish throughout our country the principle that "the laborer is worthy of his hire"—that whoever requires another's services for his own advantage or profit shall pay for them—and we can soon recover all that the fearful struggle forced upon us by the rebel Slave Power will have cost. The property of our People was officially returned in 1860 as worth about Sixteen Thousand Millions of dollars. Our Public Debt, in case the War shall have been ended by the 1st of July next, will be as one to sixteen of our resources. We believe that the soil of the Slave States will have been increased in value by the extinction of Slavery by at least that amount, so that the country will be hardly the poorer, ten years hence, for this tremendous convulsion, provided the end be as it ought.

The scheme of Mr. Chase to found a national currency on the security of United States stocks, and circulated by private banking institutions is looked upon as an expedient for peaceful times, and not adopted to the exigencies of man. Of the prospect of negotiating the 7.30 bonds, the following cheering view is taken:

We most fully concur with the Secretary of the Treasury in his repugnance to further issues of "greenbacks." We hold them pernicious and unnecessary. We hold that One Hundred Millions of 7.30s, having three years to run, may be negotiated at or over par, especially if accruing liabilities of the Government not yet fully matured shall be received—as they may be—in payment. And these 7.30s, which may soon after Peace be converted into a long loan at four or five per cent, we regard, so far as they can be floated at or above par, as the most economical security whereby the present large needs of the Government can be supplied. With proper efforts and explanations, backed by energy and success in our Military and Naval operations against the Rebels, we deem it probable that a still larger sum than we have named might be realized from the sale of these favorite securities.

WEDNESDAY MORNING JAN 14 186

The Plague-spot of Secession

In the Levant and in those countries up the Mediterranean sea, there is a terrible contagious malady, called 'The Plague' which first makes its appearance in the discoloration of the skin. At first this is but a small spot, but as the disease advances these marks become more distinct and eventually all blackened and rotten, the wretch afflicted with the malady dies. It is the custom of the country, when any person is attacked with this malady, to leave the subject of it to his fate, as almost certain death is the penalty of being too long in the company of those thus afflicted. The marks of the disease are well known, and easily discovered.

There is another disease which far exceeds in its dreadful consequences The Plague—it is that known as Treason. It is prevalent in this community to some extent, it at one time threatened to rage dreadfully, when General Lane proposed to place Oregon on the platform of the Confederate States and Wm M Gwin intended to do the same by California. One of our (now) Union cotemporaries, at that time, was infected with treason in a new shape—in the shape of a Pacific Republic, and proposed that we should not ally ourselves with the rebellious South or abolition North but "paddle our own canoe." By this elegant aboriginal illustration it was designed to show that we were too good to be associated with either of the sections while they were engaged in a terrible civil war, albeit they were very good company while under the control of the Democratic party. We did not, like the Mussulmen, abandon our erring brother in his calamity, but labored with him, and at last plucked him like a brand from the burning pile. He is now a shining light in the Union cause.

Since that time, a number of newspapers have died of the Secession Treason. In some, the plague spot was not for some time apparent, but suddenly the disease broke out, and the toad-spotted traitor stood all revealed stamped and blackened in ineffaceable infamy. Some that started boldly and frankly in the service of secession, still exist, but it is a remarkable fact that, those who were at first inclined to be neutral, or thought we had better not agitate the question out here, or did not know but what the South had great provocation, or who were always scared at some threatened infraction of the Constitution, or anything else but the success of the Confederates; all eventually showed the damning proof that they were most rotten hearted traitors, robed in the Union garb to serve their infernal purpose. All of these died out and in their place a toad-stool crop of neutrals came, who sought the confidence of the people by professions of loyalty to the national cause. Even while doing this, they were engaged in collating everything that might tend to discourage the Union sentiment, or feed the arrogance and insolence of the nigger overseer style of Chivalry that pretends to speak for the South on this coast. They deceive themselves by supposing that this species of low cunning is not estimated by the people. This self-deception is of a piece with the wisdom of the ostrich which hides its head in the sand, with the vain belief that its whole body is concealed.

We may feel a certain kind of toleration for the frank treason of the Corvallis Union which is of so violent a type as to give rise to the charitable presumption that the editor is insane, but none whatever for the small sneaking dodge of a veil of flimsy neutrality which does not even conceal the plague spot of Secession.

We warn our friends everywhere to beware of these toad stool specimens of newspapers. The sign holds good in every case,—neutrals in the loyal States would be traitors if they were in the rebellious States.

LOCATION.—Murfreesboro is thirty two miles South-east of Nashville. Bearing a little more to the South in thirty miles more Tullahoma is reached. North east of Tullahoma, twenty five or thirty miles, is McMinnville, and the two places are connected together by a railroad. The probability is that Bragg, in falling back, designs to take a position on the line of this road which has a connection by rail with Chattanooga, still further to the east south east. McMinnville is flanked on the North by mountain ranges affording a fine defensive position. If the enemy is driven from this position, the next stand point is Chattanooga, which is the last stronghold of the Confederates in Tennessee. Its loss would involve the irrecoverable loss of the Memphis and Cumberland Gap railway connecting the rebels of the East and West. After passing Chattanooga, which is on the Georgia line, this road passes through Cleveland, a few miles to the East and turns to the North east and runs through Knoxville and keeping more to the East crosses the Virginia line at Bristol in the Southern frontier of Virginia, and then through Abingdon Marion Christiansburg and by the head waters of the Appomattox, comes in opposite to Richmond on the South side of the James. This great thoroughfare is second only in importance to the rebels to the Mississippi itself. They will certainly defend it with tenacity.

Miscellaneous Paragraphs

The O S N Co's steamers only make weekly trips between Celilo and Wallula.

It is said that four hundred and eighty thousand brooms were made in California last year, valued at $150 000.

New gold mines are said to have been discovered near Lingford's Lake a few miles from Victoria.

The Pension Office has received over 10 000 applications for pensions from invalids widows and children from this war.

An election for members of Congress was ordered in two districts in Louisiana and Messrs B F Flanders and M Hahn were elected.

The rebel General Hindman's last order previous to his arrest for stealing was for the Arkansawyers to shoot pilots of steamboats and pickets.

A story was current in Paris that an attempt to assassinate the Emperor would be made on the occasion of a public celebration on the 7th of December but that day has come and gone in peace.

The late battles in the Arkansas frontier are said to have induced several fancy brigadiers to discover some pressing demand for their presence in St Louis just before the battles began.

The Secretary of the Treasury has consented the further issue of $200 000 000 of Treasury notes, which will raise the total amount of paper currency in circulation to $477,000 000. Much of this however, is the issue of the banks which it is designed to tax highly and thus force its withdrawal from circulation and give the greenbacks a better chance.

The London Times says that Prince Oscar of Sweden the brother of the present King of Sweden may probably be chosen for the vacant Greek throne but if a Swedish Prince be elected the choice is more likely to fall upon the younger brother Nicholas—Prince Oscar is at present heir to the Swedish throne, the King having only a daughter—Prince Oscar is 33 years of age and his brother Nicholas 31.

SOMETHING NEW.—The Statesman of the 12th inst, in speaking of the accusations lately made against the Superintendent of Indian Affairs for Oregon in regard to whether he drew gold and silver from the Sub Treasury and changed it into greenbacks says:

We so far feel sure of the following facts and these only. It is pretty certain that $60 000 in coin, was paid by the Assistant Treasurer of the U S at San Francisco upon the draft of Mr Rector, Superintendent of Indian Affairs that the drafts were presented and the coin drawn through the San Francisco correspondent of Ladd & Tilton. Mr Rector brought to Oregon green backs and not coin. Mr Rector says he employed that house to get the money on the drafts, and that he does not know that they drew any coin. That he got the green backs of that party did not buy any at a discount, and that if anybody so did, it was without his knowledge, and that he derived no benefit from it. Green backs were, at that time worth 84 and 85 cents in San Francisco. The Premium on $60 000 in coin would have been $9,000 or $9,600. The statement that $60,000 in coin was paid comes from Mr Cheeseman the Sub-Treasurer.

We may state in addition, that Mr Rector transferred the draft to Ladd & Tilton in this city, and received all but $31,000 on it in green backs in this city; the balance being payable in San Francisco. If we understand Mr Rector's position in relation to the matter, he considers the transfer of them to Ladd & Tilton as selling them to that house, and that he did not claim any further supervision of them while at San Francisco, and has no official knowledge of what currency they were paid in. In short Messrs Ladd & Tilton buy a government draft for a certain amount and pay a part down, and the balance at the place where the draft is made payable.

NEW PAPER SUPPLY.—E G Squiers, of Central American fame, has proposed a new source of supply for paper stock, which deserves testing. In a communication to the New York Tribune, he says:

It is alleged that the present paper famine is mainly due to the lack of "paper stock," the almost total stoppage of importation of rags, and the failure of bagging and other materials for making paper formerly obtained from the South. The demand now is for "paper stock," rags have trebled in price and even rye straw is advertised for by mills near Philadelphia, at 6½ cents per pound, or $12 per ton. The want is immediate and pressing, and we have no time to look abroad to the numerous kinds of tropical fibres from which paper can be made, nor yet to go into elaborate experiments on materials nearer home. Nor need we do so. We have an immense supply of good paper stock than which nothing could be better at home, and immediately available. I refer now to the thousands of tons of flax which lie outside the oil mills in Ohio, Illinois etc and which have literally been thrown away, after the extraction of the oil from the seed. Of all these rejected stalks, one-fourth part in weight is first class paper stock. In the two States of Illinois and Ohio, taking the census of 1860 as a basis there are, in round numbers, 55 000 tons of flax this year raised for seed and oil and thrown to waste. Properly broken and cleaned this aggregate would yield about 14 000 tons of the very best paper stock in the world—equal to two thirds of the total amount of rags hitherto imported annually, and equal in value, at the present price of paper stock, to nearly $2,000 000. The effect of bringing this vast supply into the market is too obvious to need explanation.

ROBBERIES IN MARION.—The Statesman says that on the night of the 9th inst, the store of Mitchell & Myers in Salem was robbed of a considerable quantity of goods including a gold watch. The house of Th L Davidson was robbed on the 8th inst during his absence of fifty dollars in coin.

EXCELLENT RECIPE FOR GRAHAM BREAD.—Three tea cups buttermilk one table spoonful salt, one and a half tea spoons saleratus, well pulverized. It should be stirred a very little thicker than a common cake put into a bread tin; let it stand and rise until it has the appearance of being light, (which every good housewife can tell,) when it is ready for the oven. When first put in it requires a quick oven, afterward a moderate one. Bake half an hour. The flour should always be sifted.

COCHRANE'S VIEWS OF THE WAR.—One of the [illegible] friends of Horatio Seymour and a Democrat is Gen Cochrane. He is now a Brigadier General in the army. For the benefit of the rather small and insignificant class of people in this country who believe that Mr Seymour's supporters are opposed to the policy of the President we reprint from the San Francisco Bulletin's Washington correspondence of the 10th of December some account of Gen Cochrane's views.

At the Thanksgiving celebration in his encampment Gen John Cochrane made a stirring anti-slavery speech to his troops. He advocated, says the report, striking the foe with all our strength. He would strike the white rebel or the black slave, the white sheep or the black horse, the man servant, the maid servant, or anything that belonged to the rebels. This, the only true principle of victory, he said he had advocated from the beginning, and for this he had been falsely accused of being an abolitionist. At this day the army was convinced of the justice of the policy that strikes large blows where the enemy is the most sensitive. Thus far he accepted the President's Proclamation as a military necessity, without referring it to his constitutional powers. But he feared that it was too late—that the slave was beyond our reach. The speech was received with cheers by the soldiers, and says the report, of all present not one was found whose opinions did not accord with the speaker's.

DISBANDED.—The Dalles Hook and Ladder Company, the Diligents, has been disbanded and will be recognized as an Engine Company, having already procured a Hunneman engine.

Coughs.—The sudden changes of our climate are sources of PULMONARY, BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC AFFECTIONS. Experience having proved that simple remedies often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease, recourse should at once be had to Brown's Bronchial Troches, or Lozenges, let the Cold, Cough or Irritation of the Throat be ever so slight, as by this precaution a more serious attack may be effectually warded off. PUBLIC SPEAKERS and SINGERS will find them effectual for clearing and strengthening the voice. See advertisement.

White's Fever and Ague Drops.—For the cure of AGUE, PANAMA FEVER, NEURALGIA and GENERAL DEBILITY.

This medicine has been used in private practice for many years with great success. Indeed in no instance has it failed to effect a speedy cure, to Ague especially, one bottle having been found sufficient in most cases and in none are more than two bottles required.

A great number of testimonials could be given to verify these statements but the proprietor prefers relying upon the merits of the medicine alone. A cure is guaranteed in [illegible] cases out of ten.

White's Patent Lever Trusses.—These instruments are recommended to the public as the best ever yet invented. The principle is new and different from any other. The Pad works over a Knuckle giving it a circular INWARD and UPWARD motion, thus being able to support the rupture with half the pressure required by other Trusses. The pain consequent upon heavy pressure is thereby avoided.

These instruments will not rust and are the lightest most durable and most cleanly of all others. They can be washed at pleasure. Many persons have been cured by them of ruptures of several years standing.

The Daily Oregonian.

CITY.

The MORNING OREGONIAN has a larger SUBSCRIPTION LIST than any other Daily published in this City.

DELINQUENTS.—Mr. Graves, Deputy Collector of U. S. taxes for the District of Oregon, has placed in the hands of one of the Justices of the peace of this city, complaints against certain persons who have neglected and refused to pay the United States licenses and taxes assessed against them. Heavy penalties are prescribed by the Excise law for neglecting or refusing to pay assessments for licenses and duties on manufactured articles, and they should be, if possible, avoided. Persons knowing themselves to be delinquent, should, in order to avoid paying three times the amount of the license, together with ten per cent. and costs added, go to the Collector at once and settle their U. S. taxes. Two or three were yesterday put through for delinquency, and it is the intention of the officer charged with the duty of collecting, to proceed without further delay to enforce the provisions of the law.

THE OASIS.—Our friend, John Smith, has opened a retail liquor establishment under the [illegible] of the "Oasis." The word oasis means a green spot in the centre of the desert of Sahara. At these green spots there is always plenty of water. In that respect the oasis of the desert differs from the oasis in Portland. At this oasis they drink whisky, and use water to wash it down. There are camels on the [illegible]; camels always drink at the oasis. This habit is so fixed on them that my friend, Sir Colin Campbell, never could drink anywhere else but at the oasis. On Muggins asking this venerable British warrior to drink, during his Indian campaign, he said, "Muggins, can't do it,—fact is, we Campbells are so addicted to our habits that we can't drink anywhere but at the Oasis." He was so devoted to the name of Oasis, the gay old soldier boy, that he had the word "Oasis" posted in gilt letters in his banqueting hall on the [illegible] of the Clyde. Even after he became Lord Clyde, the old Campbell habit stuck to [illegible]; he would drink at the oasis. After this, we'll say no more; but call on Johnny [illegible] you want any of the drinkables.

[illegible] OF GREENBACKS.—The steamer [illegible] down a large quantity of greenbacks, which are designed to be used in payment of [illegible] below at current rates. Some sales of them were made yesterday at 85c, and some were offered, towards evening, at 80c without [illegible]. It is reduced to a certainty that the only way in which we can defend ourselves in a commercial point of view, is by [illegible] this paper money below at current [illegible] and get clear of it altogether. This is [illegible] possible by an arrangement, which [illegible] the Pacific Coast delegation has [illegible] with the Secretary of the Treasury, to [illegible] that, hereafter no more greenbacks are to be paid out here, but the gold collected [illegible] be paid on current account.

[illegible] ENTERPRISING CHARACTER.—A man named [illegible] Smith stands accused of breaking into [illegible] of Frank Heller, at Butteville, and [illegible] open a safe from which he took over [illegible]00 in money. This happened on Saturday [illegible] last. He then stole a horse in the [illegible]rhood and came to Milwaukie, where [illegible] all night. The next day, Monday, [illegible] in this town, and is suspected to be [illegible] who made the attempt to murder, [illegible] before last. If all the stories told about [illegible] are true, he is one of the most enterprising rogues of whom we have any knowledge. His prospects as a candidate for the [illegible]tiary appear to be rather bright, if he [illegible].

[illegible].—The Sierra Nevada sailed for San Francisco, by the way of Victoria, at 7 [illegible] yesterday morning. She took out [illegible] boxes of apples, 240 hides, 37 head of [illegible] and 55 head of live cattle, and [illegible] sheep. The treasure shipment was, [illegible] in the hands of the Purser and $60,000 [illegible] Wells, Fargo & Co.—total, $100,000.

NO MAILS.—We have received no mail matter from beyond Salem for four days. We [illegible] conjecture the cause of this failure to [illegible].

THE ROANOKE.—The United States steam [illegible] Roanoke has been iron-clad and has [illegible] turrets constructed on her, carrying [illegible] in each. Her advantages are thus [illegible] up: She is perfectly mailed and intended to be [illegible]erable in every part of her hull; her [illegible] are enclosed in bomb proof turrets, which have hitherto been found impervious; [illegible] armed with guns of heavier metal than [illegible] been floated in England or France; [illegible] capable of throwing at one broadside [illegible] thousand seven hundred pounds of iron; her guns can be so directed that, at three [illegible] of her antagonist, she can direct 900 [illegible] of iron with an impelling force of 60 [illegible] of powder; she is a perfect ram, and [illegible] the weapon is so situated that whatever ship it struck would most likely sink; [illegible] understood to be fast, probably exceeding 10 knots.

MINING COMPANIES.—The number of mining companies organized in San Francisco, with their aggregate capital and characters, is [illegible] by the Bulletin:

[illegible] are 210 companies, of which 183 are gold and silver, 13 copper, and 5 quicksilver [illegible] companies, with 4 gold and silver washing and reducing companies. The whole [illegible] represent a capital stock of $122,663,-[illegible] as follows: In mines—gold, [illegible],000; gold and silver, $75,268,550; [illegible] $32,061,500; tin, $100,000; copper, [illegible],751,500; quicksilver, $2,223,000; coal, [illegible],000; paint ores, $60,000; borax, $300,-[illegible]; total, $122,104,550, and $559,000 in [illegible]ing and reducing ores—making a grand [illegible] capital of $122,663,550.

The Mountaineer says that the pressure of the Dalles water-works threw a stream through an inch and a half nozzle, eighty feet, or half [illegible] an engine could throw it. The [illegible] which was tapped was on the level of Main street.

DOCTOR VAN ZANDT,

CONSULTING PHYSICIAN & SURGEON,

Office, Corner of Washington and Sansome streets, San Francisco.

The GREAT SUCCESS of this CENTURY as an AID to PRACTICAL MEDICINE.

The Mysterious Problem of Material Nature, Electricity, made subservient for the Cure of all Nervous and Spinal Diseases.

THAT THIS PRINCIPLE SUCCESSFULLY APPLIED to diseased states of the system, is prove the great sought for necessity, long wanting by physicians, to aid their medicines in overcoming organic and functional derangements of the human body. It is a part of that great principle of vitality known as nervous influence, and necessarily must have much to do in dislodging diseased action.

Too Much Cannot be Said

In its praise; for it is highly probable that in health there is an exact equilibrium of the Electric principle, and should this secret and sudden equipoise of health be broken or lower—should the body be negatively electrified when it should be positively charged—is not the current broken, and is there not a war of forces going on in the system? This needs correcting, and in order that the tissues of the body should be perceptible to remedial agents, we must first restore and

Awaken the Magnetic Life within us

The spinal and sympathetic nerve systems. Believing as I do most firmly in this great magnetic or electrical intensity of the earth, with its influence upon our bodies in health and disease, I am led to take advantage of its Forces, through which to awaken attention to the subject, that good may come to all.

No Compromise with Disease.

Give the body strength, and nature will relieve itself. Purify the life-blood, render the stomach, liver, heart, kidneys and all the natural functions active by ELECTRICAL excitation, and at once the aged, the palsied, the nervous, the dispirited, the melancholic, the dyspeptic and the invalid driver under its benign influence.

To the Ladies of California.

Dr. Van Zandt's success with complaints of women both in family and office practice, is owing to his correct views of the origin of all their maladies. Ladies can consult him with entire confidence, as he is no speculator upon human ills—but is proving himself the only member of the legitimate profession in California who is really successful in removing those ills which are the peculiar province of the sex. His high appreciation of their delicately attuned nervous organism, together with their great sympathetic life, renders him doubly able to assuage those silent complainings which they bear so patiently and so long. No social disquietude need longer afflict our home circles, for he can awaken the stricken energies; restore the wonted felicity of the body; awaken the melancholic and desponding, arrest those drains which cause so much anxiety, cure those protean maladies which have so long Baffled the Skill of Physicians.

Develope appetite, life and animation, dispel nervous headache, sinking at the stomach, wandering pains, wasting away of strength; extreme debility and lifelessness, hectic cough, sleeplessness, unpleasant dreams and that general depression of life's powers, which go to render her life a misery and death a boon. Dr. Van Zandt, with his new method of exciting the Electro-Galvanic current, together with his remedial measures which are adapted to the necessities of California, will assure you of a complete and radical recovery of all bodily and mental infirmities, and will restore you to usefulness, and spare you a blessing to your family and society.

All the world over wherever disease exists, whether special to the soil and climate or common to all regions—epidemic or casual, acute or chronic, contagious or noncontagious—it is as necessary to restore the ELECTRO-GALVANIC equilibrium, especially in California, as it is to give food to the starving. This statement is based upon a series of facts extending through many years, and verified by hundreds of patients; so that no principle of science, no rule of experience, no result of any well known cause, rests upon more sure and unassailable foundations, than those which underlie the world-wide reputation of Electricity for the cure of all nervous states of the body, faulty digestion, mental and physical debility or prostration, coughs, asthma, wandering pains of a rheumatic, gouty or mercurial character, and all forms of disease, the result of scrofula or coachetic habit of body.

None Need Despair of Relief.

If you have ulcers which will not heal—pains that cannot be removed—melancholy which you cannot shake off—loss of power which you cannot regain—depression of spirits which weigh you down—wakefulness that knows no sleeping—business that languishes for want of energy—a void which no society can fill—suspicion which no assurance can allay—Go to Dr. Van Zandt, for his great success and the safety with which he administers his new method of electrical excitation, together with his remedies, which are adapted to the requirements of climate and constitution, will assure you of a complete and radical removal of all bodily and mental infirmities, within the scope of science and man to remove.

The Eye and Ear Diseases.

It must not be forgotten by the eye and ear sufferers that Dr Van Zandt has made these afflictions an especial study, and that he is the only Surgeon in our State who has a diploma for that branch of practice. Very many of the eye and ear troubles are purely deranged nervous action, and are cured by his electro-galvanic battery—as amaurosis, squinting, cataract, floating specks before the vision, twitching of the eyelids, nervous deafness, roaring and buzzing noises in the ears, giddiness, etc. All operations successfully done on these delicate organs of sense.

DR. BAKER'S

PAIN PANACEA.

Is composed entirely of healing gums, and vegetable oils and herbs. It is perfectly safe for the most delicate to use. I can most sincerely say that I have never known any, however delicate, to be injured by it in the least. I will continue to ask the afflicted, who have not used it, to try it for the following diseases: If they are not satisfied with its healing properties, the money will be cheerfully returned by the agent where the medicine is for sale.

If you have pain in the stomach or bowels, try a dose of Pain Panacea internally, bathe externally over the parts affected, and you will at once restore the proper action and relieve the pain.

If you have a Bruise or Wound, bathe it well with the Pain Panacea four times a day. It will relieve the pain, and take out all the poison, and heal the wound in a short time.

If you are suffering from Neuralgia or Rheumatic Pains, apply the Pain Panacea freely, and take a dose of it internally, morning, noon and night; it will not only cure the pain, but will remove the cause of the disease.

If you have the Dyspepsia, and your food distresses your stomach after eating, take a dose of Pain Panacea after each meal.

If you have a Cankered or Sore Mouth or Throat, apply the Pain Panacea, to the affected parts, and gargle the mouth or throat three or four times a day.

If you have the Diarrhœa, or a relaxed state of the bowels, take a dose of Pain Panacea, and they will soon be restored. If you have a painful swelling, bathe the parts freely, and you will soon relieve pain, and the swelling will be reduced.

If you have a severe tooth-ache, apply the Pain Panacea on a piece of cotton and bathe gum at the same time; it will stop the pain instantly.

If you have a pain in the Breast, Side, Back or Kidneys, bathe parts affected morning and night; at the same time take a dose of the Panacea internally.

If a Mother has a caked breast, apply the Panacea as hot as it can be borne.

If you feel chilly or cold, as though you were going to have a fever, take a dose of Panacea.

If you have a wound, cut, or galls upon your horse, apply the Pain Panacea; it will take out all the inflammation and heal the sore in a short tim

Return of an Arctic Explorer.

The barque George Henry, Capt Buddington arrived at New London, Conn, early on the morning of the 1[illegible]th inst, having on board Mr C F Hall the Arctic explorer, whose history of his expedition is very interesting. We find the following statement in the correspondence of the N Y Herald:

He arrived in the Arctic regions late in 1860, and at the [illegible] he was very anxious to proceed on [illegible] ly with [illegible] he [illegible] the counsel of the Esquimaux who would not consent to take up the party to the purpose of prosecuting the work.

The intervening time was occupied in learning the Innuit or Esquimaux language from the [illegible] with by their constant [illegible] with the whalers [illegible] he was enabled soon to understand and [illegible] understood. In the matters of clothing [illegible] Mr Hall adopted the Innuit style and was dressed in skins and fed upon raw meat, with a due share of blubber.

During the long and weary winter months Mr Hall was not idle, for with his boat he settled the fact that Frobisher's Straits was only a deep indentation or bay. On the 21st of August 1861 he stood on the high land at the northern shore and saw the whole sweep of land around the bay. On the 27th of September 1861 the frail boat upon which he so much depended was totally lost. Fortunately at the time two English whalers were in a bay—longitude 62 52 minutes west—and Captain Parker, who commanded one of them, promised Mr Hall a boat, which he was to leave at a designated place for his use. By some means the Englishman did not leave the boat, and Mr Hall says he thinks the ships were blown out of the bay, and yet he is anxious to hear the history of the case. The cause of humanity demands an explanation also.

Mr Hall returned to the George Henry, and learned that the schooner Re[illegible] or 'Amaret, a tender to the barque, had been lost in the gale of the 27th September. In reference to Frobisher's discoveries it appears that ancient navigator and explorer entered this bay, and finding that his progress was impeded by fixed ice, supposed that it must be an open strait frozen over, and the British government has never since pushed its further exploration. The lay of the land is very different from the lines laid down upon the charts now in use. This fact is and has been known by the whalemen who frequent its locality; but they supposed it to be a strait. But no official change has been made by any government.

Mr. Hall has a very large and carefully prepared chart of this bay, and will in due time publish it to the world, but at the present time he deems it proper to withold its features.

In 1861 his explorations were renewed with energy. He had become acclimated, and was fully alive to the amount of work which was before him. A whale boat was now procured from the George Henry, and with a crew of six Innuits, male and female, he started on his northern journey. The natives take their families with them when on these expeditions, and the women pull an oar with the men. Dogs are also of the company, and several native boats are taken for the purpose of hunting and fishing with. Thus provided with personnel and materiel they started, living on prepared food in small quantities, but mainly depending upon the game captured on the way.

Mr. Hall went to the Countess of Warwick Sound, and after much difficulty succeeded in discovering the place where Frobisher attempted to plant a colony. A considerable time was spent here in obtaining relics of that ill fated colony. At nearly every place of their debarkation relics were found, consisting of pieces of coal, brick, wood, and a portion of a cannon shot, which might have been used as boat ballast.

The coal was overgrown with moss, and a dark vegetable growth, the brick looked quite fresh and new the wood was simply chips, which, although embedded in the coal dust for nearly three hundred years are well preserved. The piece of iron is well worn with the rust of so many years.

One of the most palpable facts in connection with the discovery of these people of "ye olden time" is that Mr Hall discovered a trench twenty feet deep and one hundred feet long, a species of dry dock leading down to the water. In this excavation the party of Frobisher's men who were captured by the Esquemaux on his first voyage, with the assistance of some of their captors, built a small vessel, in which they were to embark and sail for England. In due time she was completed and put to sea, but heavy weather coming on and their vessel proving unseaworthy they were soon obliged to return. All of this crew were severely frost bitten. Despairing of ever reaching their native land, and being severely frost bitten, the captives soon died.

The facts of their mode of living and attempts to reach England were gathered from the Innuits. Mr Hall says the traditional histories are remarkably clear and explicit, and can be relied on to the greatest extent, and I believe that those who have been familiar with this class of people coincide in the same opinion.

The information respecting the fate of two of the boats crews of Sir John Franklin's expedition is not yet as clear as could be desired. The facts are these:

While on one of his sledge journeys in 1861—for he has made several—a party of strange Indians came to his stopping place, and from them he learned that three years ago two boats crews came down Hudson's Straits, bound through the straits. These men, Kodlunas or white men stopped on one of the Lower Savage Islands (which lie near the mainland on the north side of Hudson's Straits) and here they left what the Indians called "soft stones." One of the natives who knew the use of firearms saw the soft stones and pronounced them to be leaden bullets. All traces of these men were subsequently lost and Mr Hall not knowing that the Kitty, a Hudson's Bay Company ship had been lost there five years previously, supposed these two boats crews to be a portion of the Sir John Franklin expedition. In [illegible] the regretted explorer, not knowing how long he might be detained in the [illegible], had a very large supply of ammunition and leaden bullets, and that the quantities he then [illegible] in the boats when they left the [illegible] vessels [illegible] through Hudson's Strait [illegible] and thus the bullets came there [illegible].—Of this matter Mr Hall will make further search [illegible] his inferences to [illegible] in his narrative.

Mr Hall has [illegible] interesting [illegible] of [illegible] Bay which has [illegible] but the materials for an extensive scientific article on that abstruse subject.

He also discovered an immense glacier near Queen Elizabeth's Land. He named the Grinnell Glacier [illegible] Mr Henry Grinnell. It [illegible] thousand feet in height, is one hundred miles long and fifty miles in width.

Mr Hall has brought home with him a very interesting family of Innuits or Esquimaux. Ebierbing, the husband, is a fine looking fellow about twenty four years of age but he is not so [illegible] is [illegible] Tookoolito the wife is about the same age as her husband and is the interpreter. She is the [illegible] interpreter in the Arctic regions. Her knowledge of the country and its traditions are wonderful, and every explorer would feel justly proud of her services. Their child [illegible] the infant child is one year old and is a fine child. The father and mother went to England some years ago and were presented to the Queen. They of course are not so much surprised at seeing a civilized country.

The Armstrong Gun Hit.—For the better information of the public in regard to the humane practice of prize fighting, we append several descriptions of the new stroke from the shoulder, called the "Armstrong Gun Hit" which is now in great vogue among pugilists.

Jem who had repeatedly [illegible] clipping cross counter with his right had just upon himself for the purpose of trying it on when Tom with one of the most tremendous hits we have ever seen caught him [illegible] counter on the left side of the cheek with his right, a blow that seemed [illegible] Jem's face with its crushing effect. Jem who was bleeding from the mouth and nose reeled and staggered from the effect of this visitation and then to the consternation of his friends fell in the middle of the ring all of a heap.—Bell's Life

The combatants entered the ring a few minutes past nine when after fighting for thirty eight minutes during which time twenty one rounds were fought mostly in favor of Mace King countered him very heavily on the nose, and knocked him insensible, and King was declared the victor.—London Post

Both men were quick to time for the nineteenth round when Mace led with his left and landed slightly on King's face retreating without receiving in return. Attempting the same thing a second time, in breaking ground his foot slipped and of course his head slightly dropped. King at once sent out his right clear from the shoulder, got home just under the left eye and side of the nose and Mace dropped as if he had been shot blood flying in all directions.—Manchester Guardian

The tide was turned in a most extraordinary manner by undeniably a chance shot received in the nineteenth round, when King seizing the opportunity of a slip and very [illegible] a slight slip on Mace's part dashed a terrific "cross counter" which he sent in with all the force of his gigantic strength. The crushing blow sounded with a dull heavy thud all round the ring and Mace doubled up and went down as if struck by pole axe.—Sporting Life

Russian Memorial.—The monument erected at Novgorod to commemorate the thousandth year of the existence of Russian nationality, consists of a colossal circular [illegible] tal supporting an immense globe of bronze surmounted by a figure representing Religion holding up the Greek cross beneath which Russia is seen reclining her hand upon the Imperial escutcheon. The base of the globe is surrounded by the persons who represent the various epochs: Rurik the first ruler and the first King Vladimir the first male Christian Monarch Demetrius Donskoi who won the first victory over the Tartars Ivan III who first took the title of Czar Michel Federovitch the first Romanoff Peter the Great the regenerator of his country. Just below the second cornice a cortege in bas relief represents the persons who took an important part in Russian history, and singularly enough Marpha la Possadnitza the republican heroine of Novgorod. The entire monument seen from a short distance assumes the appearance of a gigantic bell, a bell indeed which in the ears of Russia resounds with the echo of ten centuries.

Proclamation by the Governor

EXECUTIVE OFFICE, PORTLAND, OREGON, January 6 1863.

By the President of the United States through Brigadier General George Wright commanding the Department of the Pacific and Brigadier General Benjamin Alvord commanding the District of Oregon I have been requested to raise six additional companies required to complete the 1st Regiment of Cavalry Oregon Volunteers. They will be needed the coming Spring on the frontiers of this State and Washington Territory and for an expedition against the Snake Indians who have so long been mercilessly engaged in robbing emigrants and murdering our fellow citizens. I cannot doubt that the citizens of Oregon who have always promptly responded to any demand for their military services will in like manner respond to this call thereby showing their loyalty to the Government and aiding in chastising marauding bands of Indians which infest our frontier.

The enlisted men when mounted will be supplied with horses by the United States, it being understood that they will be mounted or not as shall be deemed advisable by the Government.

Propositions [illegible] whole company which will furnish their [illegible] equipment may be [illegible]. The men are in such case entitled to forty cents a day for the use and risk of their horses and [illegible] equipments.

Each company will consist of one hundred enlisted men and when mustered into the service of the United States [illegible] for three years, unless sooner discharged.

Recruiting offices will be immediately opened at Portland Dalles [illegible] other places. By the Governor
